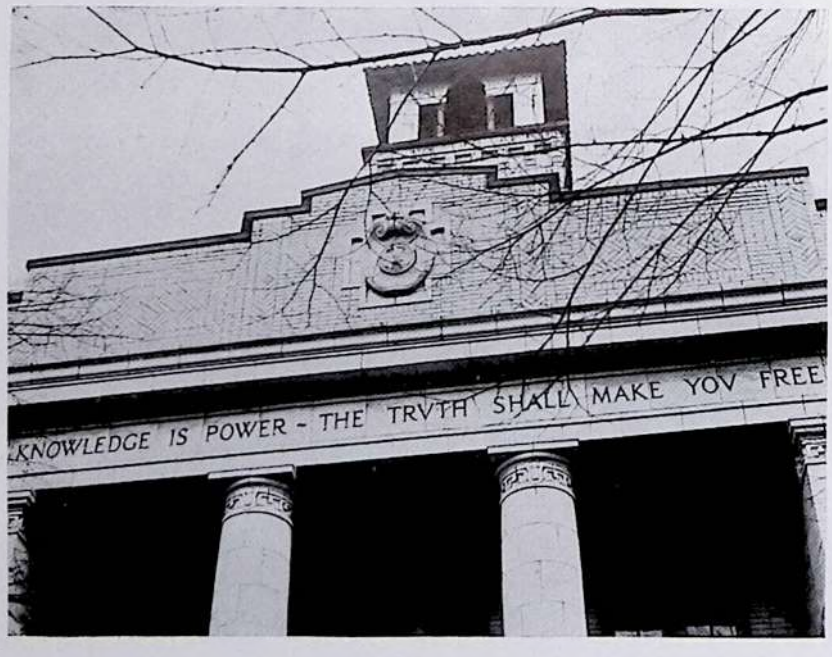
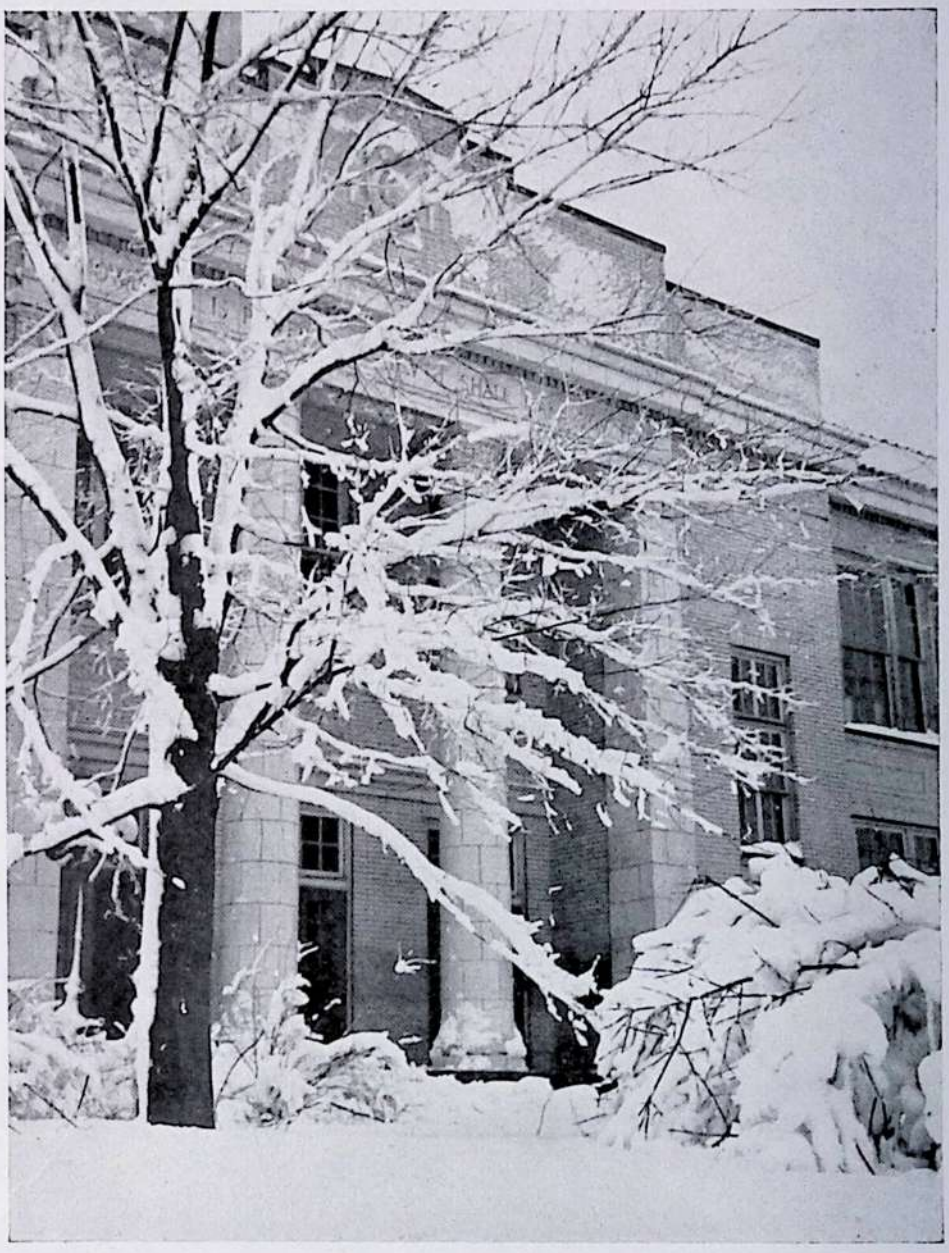
FOREWORD

Turn the page and open the door . . . the door to the foundation of a new tradition and to pages which vividly recall memories of three short years in high school. Both to the staff of The Tiger and to the entire class of 1946 goes the credit for this step in the activities at Har-Brack Union High School.

THEME:

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER—THE TRUTH SHALL MAKE YOU FREE

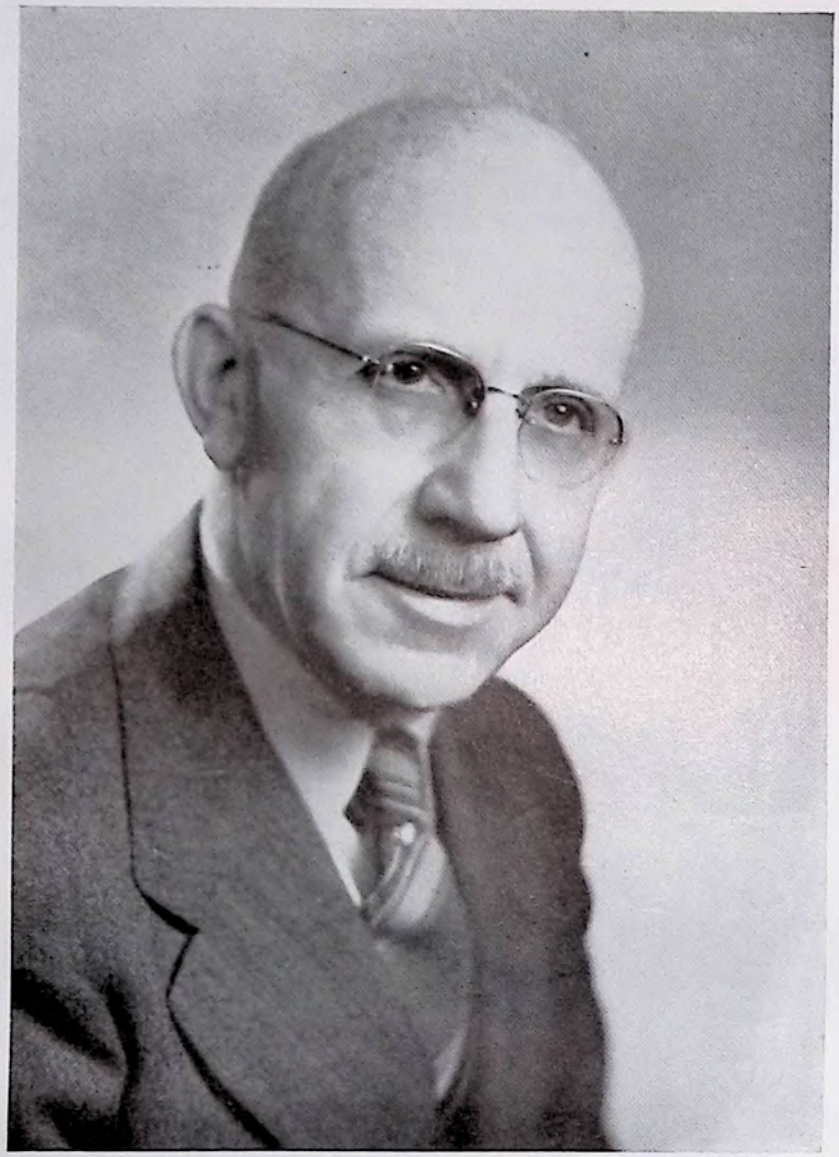




DEDICATION

Tradition is an important factor in our American way of living. Without it we would break our contacts with the past and lose an enriching part of life. Tradition is one of the least changing institutions in this transient world of ours. Here in our school the faculty will change, the student body will change, but the school with its traditions will live on. Old customs which we have known will be carried on by other students; new ones will be started.

Since it is our hope that this yearbook will be the foundation of a new tradition, it is fitting that this book, the product of much endeavor, be dedicated by the class of 1946 to HAR-BRACK UNION HIGH SCHOOL.



O. P. BALLINTINE, Principal

A TRIBUTE

Much credit is due Mr. Ballintine for guiding our school for the past twenty-two years—from the time of its dedication, through many trying years, to its present attainment.

The class of 1946 is not the only one to which the directions, "Keep off the grass!" "Don't write on those lockers!" and "Go to your sixth period!" have been issued. No, twenty-one other classes heard the same reprimands only to realize ultimately that our principal was administering the duties of his office.

We hope he has pardoned our many misdemeanors as, in a last effort, we offer him our gratitude for his personal interest in us, his students.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

To the school directors we owe our deepest appreciation. It is through their unselfish sacrifice of time and effort that we have a school which ranks high in standards throughout the county. As we go out into the world, we will remember their untiring endeavors to make us worthwhile citizens of the community, state, and nation.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

On the 30th day of August, 1943, 272 frightened students stood at the gates of Har-Brack. This was, in our own minds at least, the nucleus of the greatest class that would ever graduate from our school.

In our sophomore year we supported the war effort by aiding the scrap and paper drives, and assisting in putting all bond rallies "over the top." Due to a 10:30 wartime curfew, our Sophomore-Senior Dance was not what we had hoped to make it. We did, however, enjoy the dancing—while it lasted.

Our president, Ken Waltenbaugh, was re-elected to lead us in our junior year but when he moved to another district, Kenly Bovard very ably filled this position. Our money-making scheme consisted of selling pine cones and magazine subscriptions, pine cones being the more remunerative enterprise. We were successful in giving a delightful Junior-Senior Prom with Brad Hunt's orchestra furnishing the music.

Having attained the position of dignified seniors, we settled back to enjoy our last year in high school. Kenly Bovard was again elected president. Our prowess in the theatrical field was demonstrated in "And Came The Spring," our highly successful class play. Enjoyable evenings at both the Sophomore-Senior Dance and the Junior-Senior Prom brought a memorable stay at Har-Brack to a close.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Har-Brack was taken by storm when the present junior class first entered high school as sophomores. Though we knew we were as "green" as any other sophomore class we assumed the easy nonchalance of veterans. The main feature of our sophomore year was its disorganization; we had three class meetings the entire year. The first was devoted to the election of officers; Jim Stepp was chosen president. The S. and S. which was the principal function of the year proved to be very successful.

As juniors, we have been more active than during our sophomore year. With the persevering guidance of our class sponsors we collected enough of the so-called "root of all evil" to present our beloved seniors with the traditional J. and S.

What person in Har-Brack could help but notice that the juniors were selling little green and white beanies during Green and White week? Due, no doubt, to our expert salesmanship, the caps "went like hot cakes," and our first attempt at making money was successful. Our more recent project was the selling of Christmas wreaths. Looming in the near future was more work for the juniors but with persistence and will power we overcame all obstacles and at last reached our goal—the prom.

With anticipation we, the class of '47, await our coming year as seniors.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

It was a bright and cheery day when the class of '48 first entered Har-Brack's halls. For many it was the first time but some had-er-a-been here before. The first few dismal days we wandered about the halls seeing a familiar face here and there. The upperclassmen were no longer surprised when a bedraggled, worn-out sophomore clutched his arm and gasped, "Please! Where is the study hall?" That first hectic week the teachers at Har-Brack tried to help us with the rules and regulations of our school, and I might add, there are many!

In a surprisingly short time we found ourselves well acclimated and when we were assigned our study hall seats—the third week—we felt we knew all about Har-Brack and how it should be run. Although we considered ourselves veterans, some of us hadn't learned, even yet, that it is not proper at this school to gently close lockers. Grab the handle and SLAM is the only way to close that receptacle of evils called school books.

We then went blissfully through the year, enjoying especially the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter vacations. Basketball, football, and baseball all held potential stars from the sophomore class. We hope they do as well the next two years as they did this season.

Weeks moved by toward that happy day when we would leave Har-Brack as sophomores to return as juniors. Now everyone talked about some strange thing called the S. and S. Most of us thought it was some kind of soap and we were supposed to sell! To our great surprise and delight we found the S. and S. was an annual dance sponsored by the sophomores for the seniors. This proved to be a great highlight and climax in our first eventful year at Har-Brack Union High School.

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

Under the very able leadership of our coaches, Ray Hudson and Neil Brown, Har-Brack smashed through to gain a place among the winners in the field of sports.

In football with a tough schedule of ten games the team tasted defeat only twice and deadlocked once with Butler. The school was represented by seven lettermen on the Lions' All-Star team. The Tigers climaxed the season by an easy win over Tarentum in our annual gridiron classic.

Sporting a very fine record, the Har-Brack quintet showed some high class basketball during the 1946 season. The squad produced a combination of a strong will to win and the old determination that Har-Brack teams exhibit.

The success of this year's baseball season has not yet been ascertained but the team, which will be composed largely of seniors, is looking forward to a very successful season. The same schedule as used in 1945 will probably be played this year.

As faculty manager, Mr. Hood has done a fine job of taking care of the financial end of all the sports activities. Frank Russo, as senior manager of football, had the capable assistance of Dick Mantz and "Tut" Heid. The basketball players were aided by Ted Lang and Bill Mills. These energetic managers contributed to the ultimate success of the 1945-46 season.

CHEERLEADERS

"Alla-ga-nee-ga-nac-ga-nac"—is a phrase familiar to the student body of Har-Brack Union High School. It is to this tune and many others that these leaders direct the shouts and cheers of the students at the football and basketball games. A Har-Brack football game would not be the same without the leadership of the three boys and three girls—dressed in the traditional colors—green and white. Their purpose is to lead the combined voices of the spectators in the high school cheers.

Two cheerleaders, a girl and a boy, are chosen each year from the incoming sophomore class to serve during their high school careers. This makes a leading squad of six.

The cheerleaders are one of the most important factors of a game, and their hard work is appreciated by the spontaneous cooperation they receive from the student body.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES BOARD

One of the most active groups in Har-Brack Union High School is the Student Activities Board. This group was organized in 1942 and has proved to be a great asset to the management of the school. Its purpose is to unify the student body under one control, to promote the general activities within the school, and to help develop the growth of democracy.

The board is made up of the president of each class and one other member elected by the class at its annual election. In an advisory capacity, three faculty members are a part of the activities council. The president of the senior class is the chairman of the board; the junior class president is the vice chairman. A secretary and treasurer are elected from the student body by a two-thirds vote of the board members.

The meetings of these representatives are held bi-weekly or upon the call of the chairman to consider all matters of interest to the student body and for its welfare. The regulation of all money-making projects in the school organization comes under the control of the council. Since the physical, social, and financial well-being of the student body is under the jurisdiction of this Student Activities Board it holds a place of high esteem in the minds of the Students.

VARSITY CLUB

Coach Neil Brown sponsored the first Varsity Club of Har-Brack Union High School in 1943. Its members must be "letter-winners" or boys from the football, basketball, and baseball varsity squads. The two main objectives are to promote greater respect for the honor that belongs to the wearing of the varsity letter and to further good sportsmanship in the school by practicing it both on and off the field.

They take the responsibility of keeping the boys in the service posted on the current news from Har-Brack. They organized a basketball league for boys whose main interest had been in other sports. The club gives the boys, as a group, an opportunity to express themselves on things pertaining to their interests as well as to the interests of the school.

SENIOR TRI-HI-Y CLUB

Tri-Hi-Y girls will be among the leaders of tomorrow. The organization of which the girls are a part has won national prominence and is said to be one of the best organized groups in the schools of today. Its purpose is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. In February the local group takes a seven-week study course, this year's being "Teen Topics." The course is helpful in its presentation of everyday problems of life.

At Har-Brack the club has fun too—parties and dances—and this year a hay ride about which the girls are still talking. The Tri-Hi-Y serves the school by presenting assembly programs and selling milk at noon. It is affiliated with the local Y.M.C.A. and helps during its membership drive in February. The main project of the Tri-Hi-Y for this year was the organization of a Sophomore Tri-Hi-Y. Officers and members were installed in January.

THE CHEMISTRY CLUB

Under the sponsorship of Miss Barclay the chemistry students had an enjoyable year in a club organized to further interest in chemistry. The club was a small group of twenty-five members, but this was to its advantage.

The organization was an active one. An interesting and informative talk concerning glass was given by Mr. Lloyd Black. Some of the club's talented members — Forrest Van Valin, Charles Jones, and Leslie Yard—gave a few demonstrations. Members experimented with the principles of the incendiary bomb and successfully constructed one which they put off—outside.

Toward the end of the year the young scientists successfully managed a spaghetti supper. This proved to be an enjoyable meal followed by birthday cake and ice cream.

As a climax to the club's activities an outing was held at Bovard's farm. Hamburgs were devoured as fast as the boys could cook them. Even though the members had just eaten, a steep hill proved to be no obstacle in the path which led to a baseball field and an exciting mushball game. Before the outing was over most of the girls had been submerged, by the fellows, in the watering trough.

After evaporization had taken place, the members of Ye Olde Chemistry Club condensed themselves into three cars and proceeded homeward. This club proved interesting, entertaining, and educational to each of its members.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club of Har-Brack Union High School was very successful under the capable direction of Miss Ruth Zimmerman. The girls took part in several assembly programs; the main one was at Christmas time. Miss Zimmerman and the Glee Club appeared at many places throughout the valley. Among these were the Brackenridge Heights Country Club where they sang for the Valley Daily News Staff, the Y.M.C.A. where they were the guests at a joint meeting of the Kiwanis and Women's Clubs, the Tarentum High School, and the Natrona Heights Presbyterian Church. The most outstanding event of their first year was the half hour broadcast over W.K.P.A. after which the group made an appearance on Rev. Mueller's program. The first season closed for the club when it appeared in the commencement and baccalaureate exercises.

The social event of the year was a party held at the school for all members of the club and their guests—males, of course. The evening was devoted to dancing and feeding faces. 'Twas really very nice!

Through the efforts of Miss Zimmerman and the cooperation of the girls the fame of this group spread through the valley. In spite of the resignation of Miss Zimmerman the girls did some work as they awaited the return of the school's music director, Charles Schmitt. Under his capable leadership they are continuing their successful programs and are fast becoming a "must" for the girls of the school.

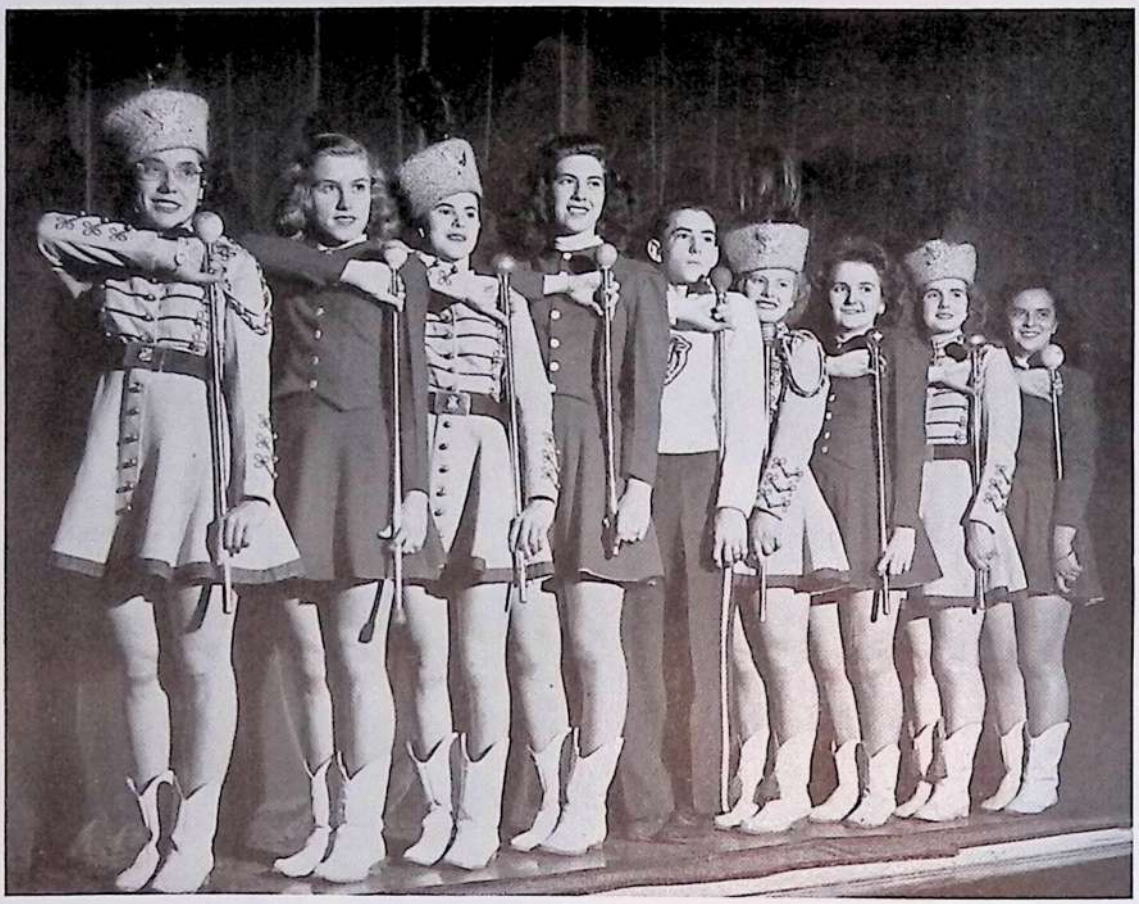
BAND

This group has gained fame as one of the musical organizations of Har-Brack Union High School. The autumn months are filled with practicing and executing drills for the football games. After the All-Star game the classical music is taken from the cupboard in preparation for the annual concert. Some of the members try a hand at solos and do quite well. The band also lends color to the basketball games during this season. As the end of the year approaches time for class plays, baccalaureate, and graduation nears. In each of these the band plays a big part. Graduation just wouldn't be graduation without "Pomp and Circumstance."

During the war this group participated in many patriotic services—the departure of draftees, bond rallies, and award ceremonies. If you ever witnessed a Memorial Day parade, Hallowe'en parade, or the Lion's All-Star game, you most assuredly saw this organization.

During Mr. Charles Schmitt's 3-year service in the navy the band was led by Mr. Hathaway, Mr. Bowman, Miss Zimmerman, and Mr. McMurdo, respectively. With the return of Mr. Schmitt regular rehearsals were resumed and the appearance of the band at commencement activities was assured.



Jones, Janosky, Fitzgerald, Sorenson, Russell, Morawski, Ziemkiewicz, Hazlett, Grove.

THE MAJOR AND THE MAJORETTES

There is more to being a Drum Major or a Majorette than marching at the head of the band, twirling a baton to the music, or swinging said baton to the rhythm of the drum beat. Since he is the first to appear before the fans, it is his responsibility, on a football field or in a parade, to create a pleasing and striking impression. If a well organized corps of twirlers and marchers appears before the spectators, the fans will assume that the band will likewise be striking and alert.

One of the biggest problems this past season was working out new and interesting drills. The drills presented were received well by the public. Since the ban on chartering buses was lifted this year, the band and twirlers were given the opportunity to visit other fields, to observe the tactics of other twirlers, and to display their own achievements.

Pat Hazlett ably filled the head majorette's boots. Olga Morawski, substituting as head majorette, along with Bob Russell gained recognition at the Ken High game for twirling flaming batons. Five senior members of this year's squad received well-earned letters at the band concert.

PRESS CLUB

"The HUB," given second honor rating in the N.S.P.A., entered its fifth year of publication September 21, 1945. The bi-weekly newspaper is edited and mimeographed by members of the Press Club of Har-Brack Union High School. Admission to the club becomes established upon the approval of application by the Executive Board but a probationary period of two issues must be served by all new members before membership becomes official. The Press Club received nine new members this year, making a total enrollment of nineteen.

Miss Bluestone succeeded Miss Broadfoot and Mrs. Henschel as sponsor of the club. Virginia Koesis was the editor and Leslie Yard was elected Associate Editor upon the departure of Nancy Evans. Other editorships held this year were: News, Feature, Exchange, Club, and Sports. Typists and artists are also very important in completing the staff. Letters were given at the annual banquet to qualifying members. The club is doing a great service for the school and the valuable experience and benefits received by the individual who devotes his time and energy to working for the HUB must be mentioned.

GIRLS' LEADERS CLUB

These are the girls who are especially interested in athletics, and who wish to become more proficient in different kinds of sports. The Girls Leaders Club is organized not only to promote sportsmanship and leadership in sports, but in other activities as well. These girls meet every Tuesday evening on the gym floor or outdoors and participate in activities according to each one's liking. With our sponsor, Miss Campbell, directing the activities, everything runs smoothly, and no lives are lost. The favorite indoor game is basketball while mushball ranks first among the outdoor sports. The girls also find enjoyment in shuffleboard, ping pong, and volley ball. In the spring or fall, some participate in badminton, archery, or even pitching horseshoes. No one is ever idle.

This organization earns money for the school. The past year it took charge of the concession stand at the football games, and every member worked there at least once. Both last year and this, each girl has had a chance to sell candy and pop at the basketball games. As members of this club girls acquire leadership ability, develop good sportsmanship, keep in good physical condition, and enjoy many good times.

INSTITUTE SPEAKERS

"Is Education for World Citizenship an Effective Means for Building Sound International Friendship?" was the subject discussed by six Har - Brack Union High School students at the Allegheny County Teachers' Institute October 12, 1945. Under the direction of Miss Barranco, they developed all phases of their topic in such a way that their ability to think for themselves was proved to many. High commendation was awarded them for their splendid performance.

First row—Jones, VanValin.
Second row—Miss Barranco, Mansfield, Yard, Szarnicki, Sarver.

FORENSIC

KIWANIS SPEAKERS

At a dinner meeting of the local Kiwanis Club these Har-Brack Union High School students presented their ideas on some community improvements. Mr. Studebaker was their sponsor. A large part of the subject matter was original and the rest was obtained from the school library. Miss Parker faithfully coached the participants in the presentation of their ideas.

The topics discussed were: educational reforms, a vocational high school, and post-war constructional improvements. The speakers suggested quite a number of ways in which to solve these problems in our own community.

The Kiwanians were well pleased with the program and went home satisfied that the young people of the district are interested in present day affairs and community development.

THE TIGER

A set determination on the part of some of us seniors resulted in the accomplishment of our ambition—a school year book. Nothing was to stop us! With the vote of the class and the willingness of Mrs. Jacobs to sponsor the project we began. A meeting was held to determine who were willing to help and in what field they would be most capable. From this list a staff was chosen with Bob Mansfield as editor. The next step was finding a name for our annual. This was done through a contest, the winning name being "The Tiger," submitted by Peggy Henschel, a sophomore.

As it was to be a long hard climb, the work of the committees was launched at once. Money was our first need. This was taken care of by the business staff headed by Gladys Montgomery. What is a year book without pictures? Jack Peffer with the photography group saw to this. The arduous task of getting the senior pictures, snapshots and class pictures ready for the engraver was happily accomplished. The unique divisional pages were done by the art committee with Melvin Jack as art editor. After the deadlines were met by these committees, most of the worries seemed to vanish. Grace Bovard as literary editor still had her committee working on clubs, sports, dedications, and senior write-ups.

The book was finally ready for a thorough examination by the editor and assistant editors, Jane Barton, Anne Cleaver, and Kenly Bovard, and the sponsors Mrs. Jacobs, Miss Kelley and Miss Lytle.

Yes, it was a difficult task, but we all learned much while having lots of fun, and to the future "Tiger" staffs we say, "Carry On!"

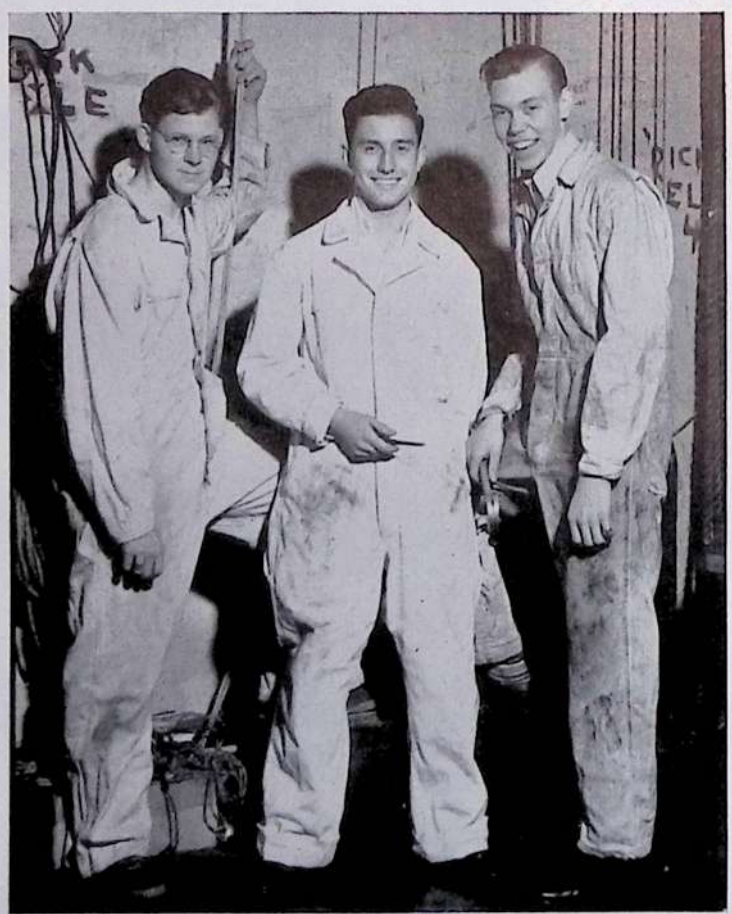
SENIOR DRAMATICS

An original dramatic farce called "Har-Brack Takes a Bride," under the direction of Mrs. White, was presented by the senior class as a part of the school's celebration of Green and White week. This was a portrayal of Har-Brack as the hero and Tarentum as the villain fighting to gain Victory as his bride. The dramatic climax of the high school years of the class of 1946 was "And Came the Spring." This was the brightly humorous story of the Hartmans, pleasantly typical American family. The charming and lovable teen-age daughter finds herself suddenly in love. She thinks nothing of starting whirlwinds or even tornadoes to impress the casual, witty Buzz Lindsay—who is in love with her older sister Virginia. When spirited Midge tries managing lives for her own ends, she causes her sister to be suspected as a thief; she drops a bombshell into her father's business, threatening her sister's college career; she disrupts brilliant brother Elliot's carefully planned life; she also plays havoc with the hearts of several other young people—in short, the sanity and well-being of everyone is threatened. Things finally are untangled and the three Hartman children take an important step toward maturity. This comedy presented an opportunity for many seniors of Har-Brack to display their dramatic ability. The cast was:

Midge	Helen Swain
Allan	Joe Stokewicz
Mr. Hartman	Jack Peffer
Mrs. Hartman	Elizabeth Miller
Edna	Mary Jean James
Clancey	Jack Robinson
Elliot Hartman	Kenly Bovard
Carolynn	Elvira Emanuelson
Keith	Quentin Gosser
Gabby	Marilyn Scott
Freddie	Jack Cromer
Virginia	Betty Markwell
Buzz	Charles Jones
Mr. Fields	Gordon Witchey
Mrs. Fields	Roberta Painter
Christine	Lillian Herskovitz
Messenger	George Smith

STAGE HANDS



Robinson, Walsh, Jack

Behind the scenes, taking care of lighting, sound effects, and scenery those capable stage hands, Bud Warner, Bob Walsh, Melvin Jack, and Jack Robinson are found. During the year these handy men have done much to make our assembly programs successful. To them we give a vote of thanks!

THE HONOR ROLL

The Honor Roll which was presented to the school by the classes of 1943 and 1944 is a tribute to all students who have gone from this school to serve their country.

At the present, there are one thousand six hundred seventy-six names on the Honor Roll. Five of these names represent faculty members, and fifty-two are marked by gold stars. To these we are deeply indebted. We hope that this memorial will serve as a reminder of the service each of these persons has given to insure our freedom. May this honor roll prove such an inspiration to Har-Brack students that, in this school, democracy may be preserved.

"They seek not to have back what they have given;
They seek not praise, nor prize, nor earth's acclaim.
They ask only that we who follow after
May profit by the anguish they have borne.
They ask for men the just peace that they fought for,
The better world that they have died to build."

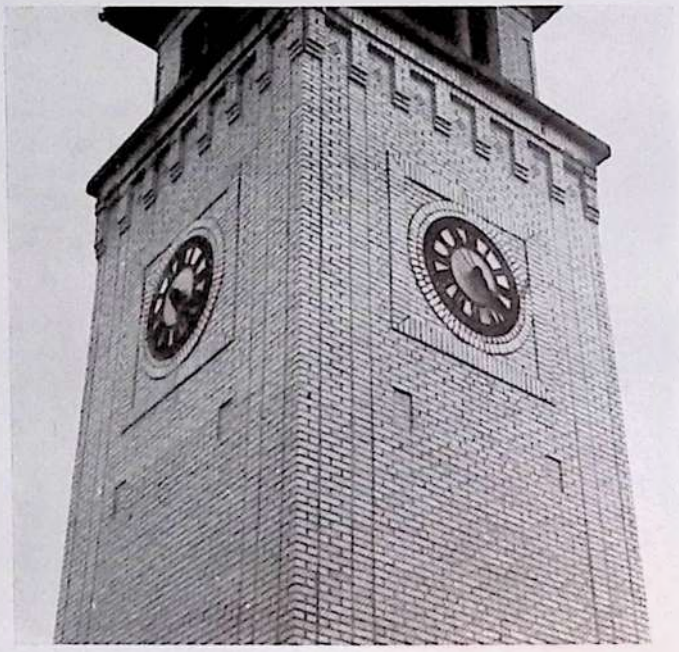
HAR-BRACK
TIGERS



FAREWELL

You, to whom we have been coming each day with lingering steps, in whom we have made lasting friendships, in whose failures we have been sad, in whose success we have gloried, will live on in our hearts and in the hearts of those who have not yet reached this climatic year.

To you, Har-Brack Union High School, we, the class of 1946 have already devotedly dedicated this, the first annual. It is our fervent hope that The Tiger may be perpetuated with increased brilliance in each succeeding issue.

With this, our last task for you, we bid you, "Adieu."
